Look at the sky. It is stretched out over you like a curtain. Clouds move, they are driven by the wind, and are always in new shapes. God created the earth; it smoothly runs in its course.

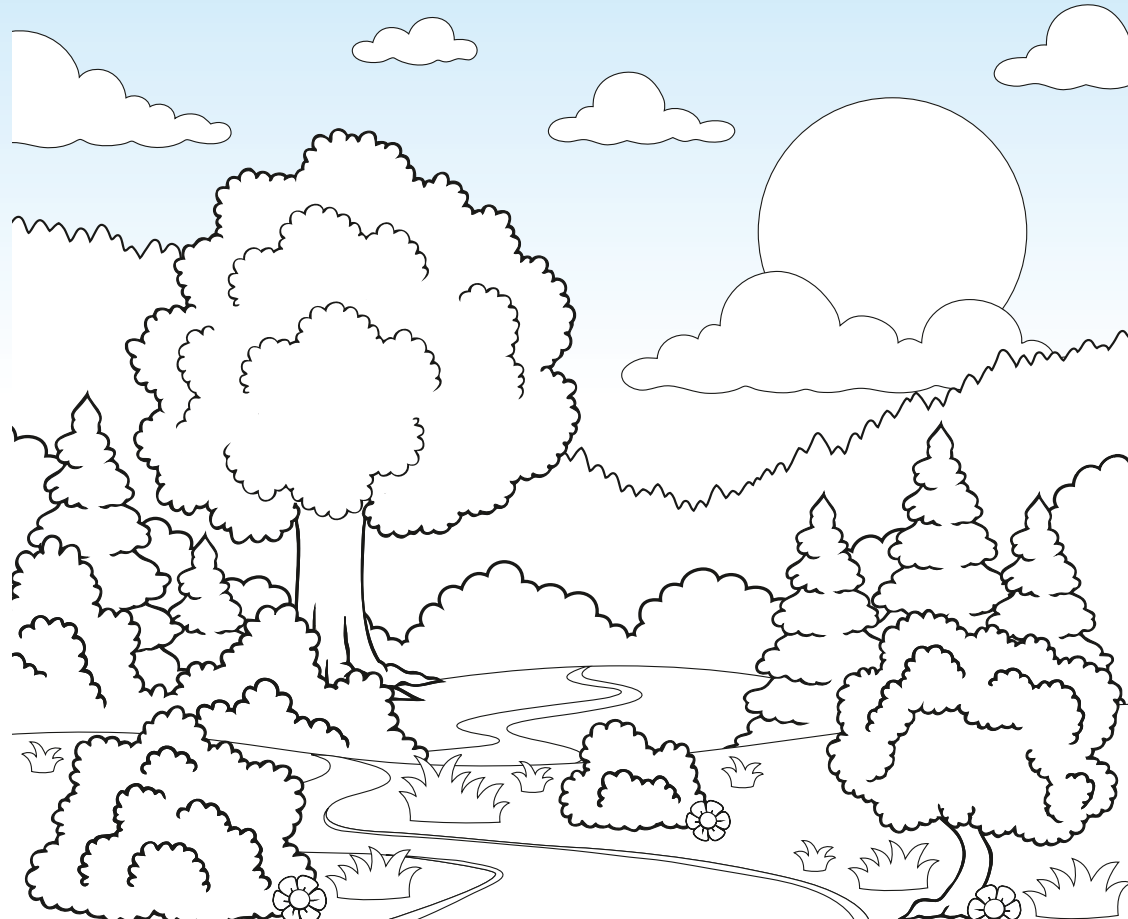

God created the depths of the oceans and the land with its mountains and valleys. The springs of the mountains provide us with water. It flows through the valleys. The animals drink of it. The birds live among the branches and sing their song.

God makes grass grow for the cattle. He gives them crops, fruit and grain. He has prepared a home for each animal: nests for the birds and high cliffs for the wild goats. The moon is the light of the night, and the moon shines for the animals of the forest. Men get up at sunrise when the wild animals lay themselves down in their dens. Everything depends on God. Every day I will praise Him, until the end of my life.

Noah

Noah lived a long, long time ago. Back then, God spoke directly to the people. But the people did many bad things. They didn't want to have anything to do with God. So God was sorry that He had created them: He wanted to destroy them and flood the earth with water.

Fortunately, He found Noah and his family. They should stay alive. They loved God and did what He told them. This is why God told Noah about His rescue plan: Noah should build a big ship – in the middle of the countryside. The other people laughed at Noah. But Noah knew from God that only the Ark could provide safety. When the ship was finished, everybody was allowed to go aboard. But the people still laughed at Noah's Ark. Only the animals came; one male and one female of every kind. In the end, Noah and his family went into the Ark and God closed the door behind them.

The rain poured down onto the roof. Outside, the water rose higher and higher. It didn't stop raining. It took forty days and forty nights.

And what about the Ark? The Ark began to float. The water even covered the highest mountains. You couldn't see anything of the cities and forests anymore.

Everything had drowned in the waters, even the people. Then God thought: „It is enough.“ And it stopped raining. After many weeks, the earth dried again. Noah and his family and the animals could finally leave the Ark. They were happy and thanked God for having been rescued by the Ark.

God said to Noah: „Do you see the rainbow in the sky? Each time when you see the bow it will remind you that I love the people and that I want to save them.“

You can read this story in the Bible. It is written at the very beginning of the Bible, in Genesis chapters 6-9.

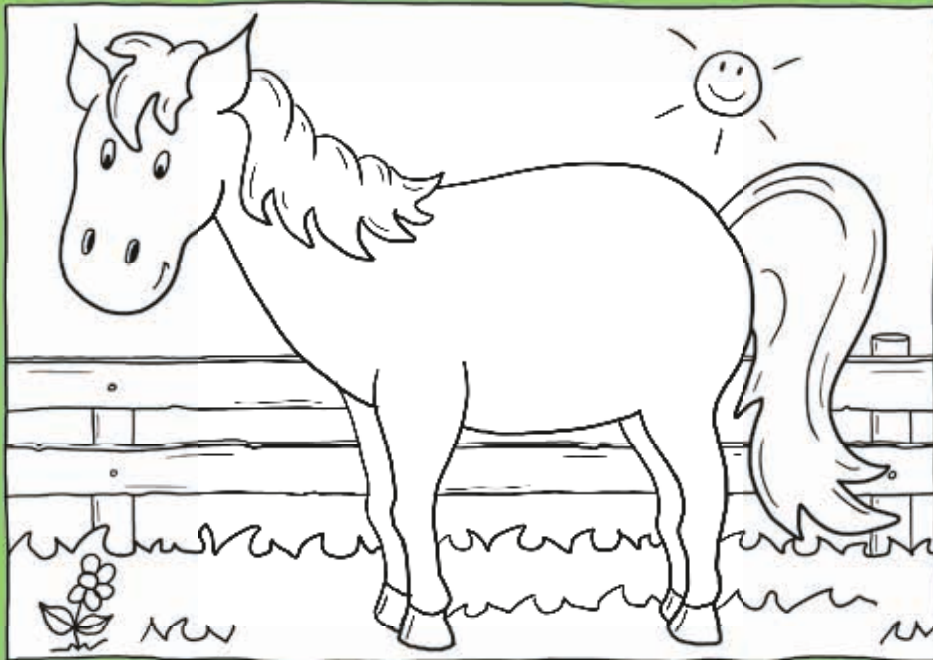

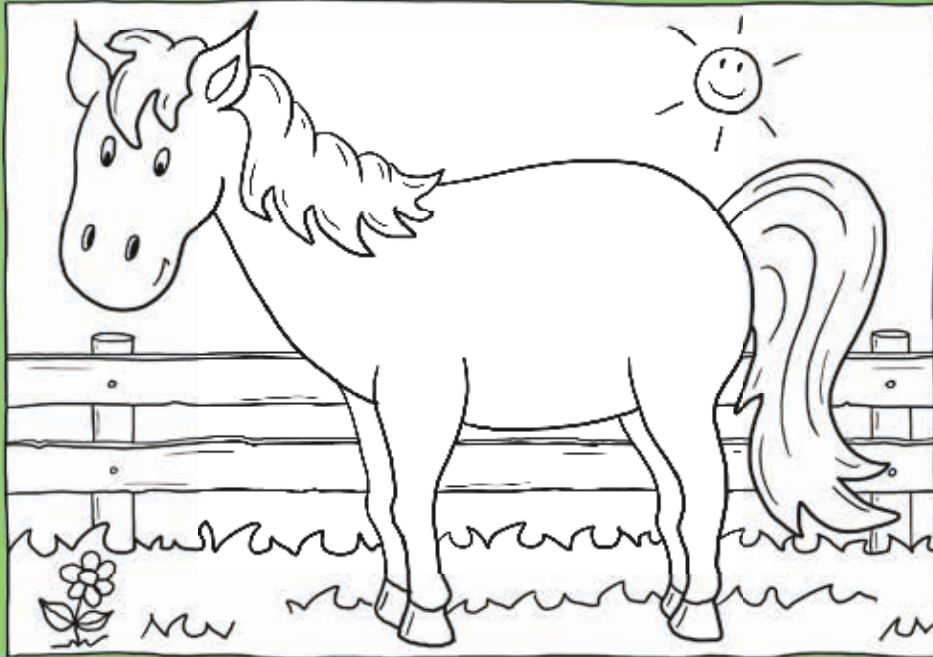

Do you know that God loves you? He wants you to be well and He wants you to be with Him in heaven one day. That's nice, isn't it? But wait! – Everyone has a bad and sinful heart. Like this, they can never come to God.

This is why God sent His Son, the Lord Jesus, into this world. He died for you on a cross! For your sins! – And now? Jesus Christ is alive! He has risen!

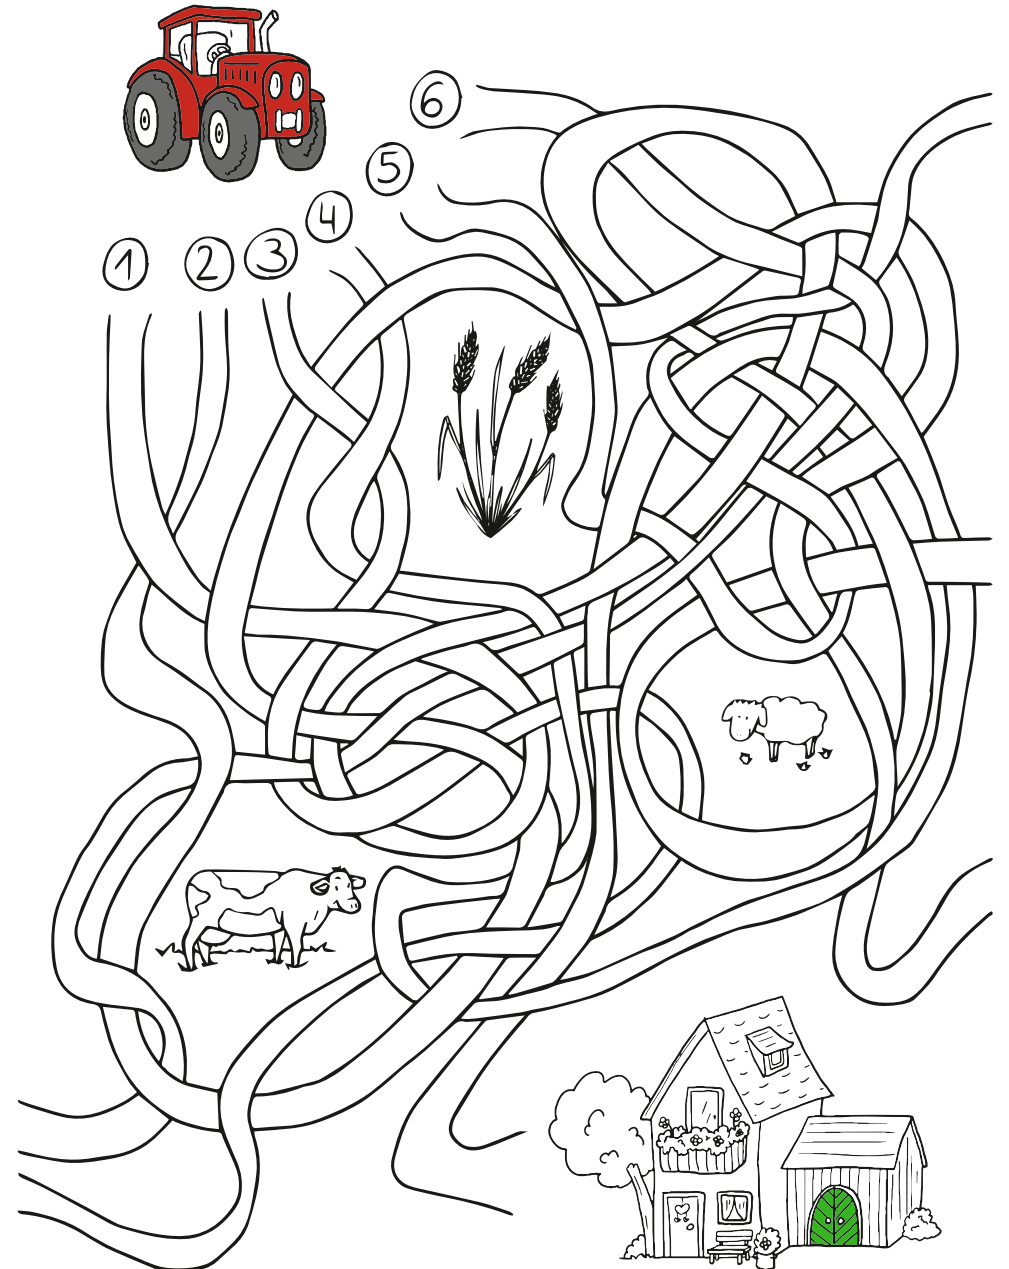

Everybody who believes in Him and confesses their sins will be saved. Tell Jesus Christ your sins in prayer and thank Him that He died for your sins, too. Then you are saved, like the people in the Ark back then...

Lost! And now?
Can you help the farmer find his way home?

The Lost Puppy

Little Sue had a ranch of cuddly toys on her bed. But one evening when she wanted to put them to sleep, the little puppy was missing. She looked for him everywhere, but couldn't find him in her dark room.

Finally she told her mum: „Mummy, I can't find my puppy! Maybe he got lost outside... oh my poor puppy!" Her mum soothed her: „I'm sure we'll find your puppy. Now go to bed, and tomorrow we will look for him. Why don't you pray to God for help?"

Some days passed, but Sue just couldn't find the puppy. She was very, very sad.

One day, while mum was cleaning Sue's room, she called, „Sue! Look what this is!" – Behind the bed Sue found a very dusty puppy. „Oh, my puppy," she said. „What are you doing here? I was so scared!" She reached out her hand, pulled the puppy out of the corner and tenderly freed him from the dust. Sue and the other toy pets were so happy to have the puppy back.

Like Puppy was, all people are "dusty". Every time they do something bad, like lying or taking what is not theirs (God calls it sin), they load some more „dust" (=sins) on themselves. But the problem is: they can't cleanse themselves, like you dust a dusty shelf or like Sue cleaned her puppy. Only Jesus can do it, and He is sad about people being lost in sin. Say to Him: „Jesus, I'm so dusty with sin. I'm sorry that I have sinned, I want to become clean again." He will then take the "dust" away and give you a completely new life.

If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.
